Getting Ready for NaNoWriMo

Instructor: Catherine Ozment

November is National Novel Writing Month, when people around the world accept the challenge to write a 50,000-word novel in just 30 days. For many writers, preparation is the key to success, so this class will help you plan a novel. Develop your plot, outline chapters, flesh out your characters, and get to know your book so you'll be ready to write it when the time comes. Students will have opportunities to share and brainstorm with the group as their projects develop, but this class does not include a formal workshop. NaNoWriMo participation not required.

Dates: (Thurs) 10/4-10/18 & 11/1

Time: 6-8pm

Etegami – Japanese Picture Letters

Instructor: Else Tennessen

Etegami is a Japanese folk art consisting of simple hand-painted drawings accompanied by a few apt words or a quotation. They are almost always done on postcards for quick and easy mailing. In this class, students will learn the three basic rules for painting etegami and use traditional etegami tools (brushes, gansai watercolor paint, sumi ink, and special watercolor postcards). Painting etegami is fun and easy and you don't need previous experience with watercolors. Beginners are most welcome!
